

TOPTENS

OTHER

ANIMALS

BALLPARKS

MERCH.

FOOD/DRINK

GAMES

PEOPLE

PLAYERS

OFFENSE-SPECIFIC MODIFIERS

- Broken bat
- At pitches in the dirt
- With different-colored bat/other equipment
- With/without batting gloves
- By spot in the lineup (P-hitter, leadoff man, etc.)
- With a pitcher hitting
- ...etc.

OFFENSE-SPECIFIC ADJECTIVES

- Furthest
- Shortest
- Hardest
- Softest
- Luckiest
- Clutchest
- Most important
- Most historic
- Least likely
- Most unexpected
- Coolest
- Most intimidating
- Most notable
- Most unlikely
- Most towering
- ...etc.

MODIFIERS

"Modifiers" are tags to add to the end of any Top Ten list that can modify them or specify them to make a new, distinct Top Ten list. These should be used tastefully and carefully, as although there are countless modifiers to use with each Top Ten, there are only so many that are appropriate for each list. The following modifiers are examples of general, all-applicable modifiers to keep in mind when generating a Top Ten list:

- By team (i.e. "Top Ten Winningest Seasons by a Yankee")
- By time (i.e. "Top Ten Best Pitchers of the 1970s;" "Top Ten Funniest Fan Catches of 2012;" "Top Ten Best Hitlers of the Live Ball Era")
- By position (i.e. "Top Ten Offensive Shortstops")
- By Hall of Famers/All Stars (i.e. "Top Ten Least-deserving HoF's/All Stars")
- By individual player (i.e. "Top Ten Jeter Moments")
- By game (i.e. "Top Ten Clutchest Moments of the NLCS;" "Top Ten Closest All-Star Games;" "Top Ten Most Crucial World Series Plays")
- By left/right (i.e. "Top Ten Most Powerful Left-handed Hitlers")
- By race/ethnicity (i.e. "Top Ten Japan-born Players")
- By ballpark (i.e. "Top Ten Furthest Home Runs at FNC Park")
- By career (i.e. "Top Ten Most Singles Ever")
- By a rookie (i.e. "Top Ten Biggest Impact Made by a Rookie")
- By jersey number (i.e. "Top Ten Offensive Players to Ever Wear No. 2")
- By leader (i.e. "Top Ten Most Frequent Single-Season Home Run Leaders")
- By season (i.e. "Top Ten Baserunning Seasons of All Time")
- By age (i.e. "Top Ten Youngest Players to Win an MVP")
- ...etc.

CATCH-SPECIFIC MODIFIERS

- Catches turned into double/triple plays
- By situation
- Caught with barehand
- Off of a particular batter (i.e. "Top Ten Hits Chipper Jones Should Have Had... but Were Caught")
- ...etc.

CATCH-SPECIFIC ADJECTIVES

- Dazzling
- Longest run
- Best range
- Best route
- Highest leap
- Most unlucky
- Least likely
- Luckiest
- Most clutch
- Most creative
- Greatest concentration
- Mind-blowing
- Smoothest
- Silkiest
- Made-it-look-easy
- Most bizarre
- ...etc.

BASERUNNING-SPECIFIC MODIFIERS

- By base
- By situation
- By softness/sluggishness
- SBs (etc. turned into more than one base (from error, etc.))
- By effort
- ...etc.

BASERUNNING-SPECIFIC ADJECTIVES

- Fastest
- Slowest
- Funniest
- Sneakiest
- Most surprising
- Least likely
- Most unexpected
- Most crucial
- Longest
- Quickest
- Slowest
- Most doggish
- Most breathtaking
- Most exciting
- Most out-of-place
- Most clueless
- ...etc.

PITCHING-SPECIFIC MODIFIERS

- By location
- By situation
- By left/right
- By knuckleballer
- By arm angle (sidearm/ submarine/ over-the-top/ etc.)
- ...etc.

PITCHING-SPECIFIC ADJECTIVES

- Fastest
- Slowest
- Nastiest
- Most perfect
- Knee-buckling
- Scariest
- Mind-blowing
- Loopy
- Elegant
- Mistake
- ...etc.

ADJECTIVES

"Adjectives," in this case, are used to change the front of the Top Ten lists, altering a "Best" to a "Worst" to a "Funniest," and so on. The adjective defines what particular kind of highlight among the general highlight needs to be found, and it establishes an additional connection linking all of the items on the list. The following are examples of just some of the innumerable adjectives to consider when compiling a Top Ten list:

- Most frequent
- Least frequent
- Best
- Worst
- Most famous
- Least likely
- Most unexpected
- Miracle
- Loudest
- Classic
- Funniest
- Silliest
- Most ridiculous
- Nastiest
- Most unfair
- Most crucial
- Most tense
- Most uncomfortable
- Scariest
- Most intimidating
- ...etc.